11:00 Call to order, introductions

11:05. Jim Lawrence -- The Open Space Acquisition Advisory Committee (OSAAC) is working on the proposed Willow Creek Multi-Use Trail.

11:15 Introduce Chris Hoskings, Prescott Park and Recreation representative to PBAC. Update on trails projects.

11:25 Review Public Works Director Craig McConnell's response to Mayor Wilson regarding re-striping of Sixth Street.

11:35 Karen Warrick: Revitalizing PBAC.-- It is generally assumed by the committee that their efforts will play a critical role in Prescott's future, yet flagging attendance at committee meetings is hampering committee enthusiasm and productivity.

Another assumption is that greater community participation, along with a larger core group of committee members will lessen the burden and increase productivity.

It is suggested that we consider several approaches to grow the ranks of the committee, and increase community involvement - such as:

- Identify individuals possessing various qualifications deemed important to the committee, and prepare a letter of invitation , perhaps signed by the Mayor, to send to them.
- Query the list of PBAC members who have been more absent than present of late. Is there something that prevents their attending - meeting time, place, day, etc? Is there something we can do to draw them back?
- Can we organize press releases or other media coverage with Kim Kapin to encourage interested parties to apply?
- Can we form an association with other groups, such as the Mayor's new Prescott 2050 committee to generate interest?
- Other options?
